Forward-looking statements caution

Certain statements in this presentation are forward-looking and are made in reliance on the safe harbour provisions of the US Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These statements include, without limitation, those concerning: outlook, including revenue, EBITDA, free cash flow and capital expenditure; cash specific items; BT Global Services operating cash flow; our fibre roll-out programme reach, increased speeds and speed availability.

Although BT believes that the expectations reflected in these forward-looking statements are reasonable, it can give no assurance that these expectations will prove to have been correct. Because these statements involve risks and uncertainties, actual results may differ materially from those expressed or implied by these forward-looking statements.

Factors that could cause differences between actual results and those implied by the forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to: material adverse changes in economic conditions in BT's markets; future regulatory actions and conditions in BT's operating areas including competition from others; BT's selection of the appropriate trading and marketing models for its products and services; technological innovations including the cost of developing new products, networks and solutions and need to increase expenditures for improving the quality of service; the anticipated benefits of new technologies, products and services not being realised; developments in the convergence of technologies; prolonged adverse weather conditions resulting in a material increase in overtime, staff or other costs; the timing of entry and profitability of BT in certain markets; significant changes in market shares for BT; fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates and interest rates; the underlying assumptions and estimates made in respect of major customer contracts proving unreliable; the aims of the BT Global Services restructuring programme not being achieved; the outcome of the Pensions Regulator's review; and general global financial market conditions affecting BT's performance and ability to raise finance. BT undertakes no obligation to update any forward-looking statements whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.
